NUMB. 5046

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1745.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Flanders.

Nice, June 5.

Since the Arrival of M. Maillebois in this City, several Councils of War have been held in relation to the Operations of the Campaign, which, it is certain, depended upon his absolute Concurrence with the Designs of the Spanish Generals; to which, how little soever he might be naturally disposed, he assented with the best Grace in the World; it is become so great a Favourite with the Infant Don Philip, that the Marquis de Castillar, who has a great deal of Wit, and is a very free Speaker, could not help saying, He believ'd the Marshal aim'd at a Golden Fleece; meaning, that he had a View to that Order, in the Court he pay'd to his Royal Highness. However that may be, all Things seem now entirely settled; and the Infant is gone to Albenga, where he will remain till the rest Part of the Army has pass'd the Defiles. Several Battalions have had Orders to post themselves on the Eminences, in order to cover the Army from the Attempts of the Militia and Peasants in that dangerous and difficult March. It is thought that Five French Regiments will be employ'd on the Side of Savorgio, to make a Diversion towards the famous Pass of Tende. As to the rest of the French Army, we cannot say positively whether it will join the Spaniards or not, some Battalions only being as yet arrived here.

Grenoble, June 5. The Count de Gages having receiv'd Advice, that the Army of the Infant Don Philip was to march, made himself immediately a Motion, advancing a Part of his Cavalry to Bisigno, from whence they will march directly to Ponevers. As to this Army, and that of the Infant, are arriv'd at the Frontiers of the King of Sardinia's Territories, who will begin to march under the Command of De Francisco Briguolo, General Seissel, and other Officers, in order to encamp about Gravé and Novi. All necessary Measures are already taken for supplying them sufficiently with Provisions, a Company of Convalescents being agreed to furnish, at a certain Rate, 15,000 Rians per Diem; as also to provide a sufficient Number of Horses, Mules, and Carriages, for transporting the Artillery and Baggage. The common Opinion is, that all imaginable Methods will be tried, to move one or other of the Spanish Trains of Artillery; this is to say, from Orbitello or Monaco. But if these Attempts should fail, the new Train that is to be sent to the Camp of the Republick, will be either sold, or sent them, rather than the Expedition should be retarded; for we look upon it now as a Thing certain, that if the Spaniards do not prevail, we shall fall a Sacrifice to the King of Sardinia; at least so our great Politicians persuade us, and on the Faith of their Assertion we proceed.

Dresden, June 12. M. Cagnoni was scarce arrived here, in order to replace M. de Bees, in Quality of Minister from the King of Prussia, than all of a sudden he set out again for Berlin, agreeable to the Orders he received by the same Courier that brought Advice of the Battle of Freyberg. His Majesty has given Orders for recruiting the Army effectually; and with that View it was proposed to the Militia, that a certain Number of them should enter into the Service for three Years; upon which so many presented themselves, that the Loss sustained in the late unhappy Action, was more than repaired in a few Hours, and the Recruits will march to-morrow. There have been so many different Reports about that Affair, and the Behaviour of our Generals, that it may not be amiss to observe the Duke de la Weissenfels was actually in the Heat of the Battle, and distinguished himself by rallying and charging at the Head of the Cuirassiers several Times; tho' by wearing the Riband of the Order of the Garter, he was so particularly marked out, that it is a Wonder he escaped unharmed. As it was, himself and his Horse were all over cover'd with Blood. The true Loss we have sustained in this Battle, as returned to the King, is as follows; viz. 75 Staff Officers, from Generals to Majors; 96 Officers, from Captains to Ensigns; 2960 private Men, Serjeants, Corporals, and Drums; in all 3091 kill'd, wounded, and missing.

Extract of a Letter from Cologne, June 23, 1745.
Our Elector has caused a Declaration to be made to the Court of Vienna, which cannot but exalt the high Opinion the Queen of Hungary has always entertained of his Highness's Sincerity and Integrity. In short, he has in the fullest and clearest Terms made known to the Ministry at Vienna, his Intentions, not only to concur in restoring the Activity of the Vote of Bohemia, but in giving his Voice for the Grand Duke of Tuscany, with the same Spirit and Chearfulness that he did for his Brother, the late Emperor Charles VII. of glorious Memory. By this, and by the Steadiness of the Elector of Bavaria, who has certainly rejected the Offers that have been made him by France and Prussia since the Conclusion of the Peace, it is most apparent that the Houses of Austria, Saxony, and Bavaria, are united in one common Interest; which cannot fail of producing the most salutary Effects to the Empire.

It is now look'd upon as a Thing certain, that the Czarina determined his Polish Majesty to relinquish all Thoughts of the Empire, and to concur in promoting his Royal Highness the Grand Duke to the vacant Throne. It is generally surprized, that her Czarish Majesty might have some particular Reasons not to be extremely desirous of seeing the Imperial and Polish Crowns on the same Head; to which it is said, France, for the sake of her own Interest, would have willingly consented. But whether it was from this Motive, or from a Principle of Kindness and Friendship to the Queen of Hungary, that the Empress of Russia acted, imports but very little; since the Thing is done, and the King of Poland, as Elector of Saxony, has taken the Step expected from him, with the best Grace in the World.

It is in Consequence of this, and as it were to indemnify him for so remarkable an Instance of Self-denial, that the Czarina has declared by her Chancellor, Count Bestucheff, to Baron Mardfeldt, the Prussian Minister, that it is impossible she should be a tame Spectator of the Invasion of any Part of the King of Poland's Dominions; that the Alliances subsisting between her and that Prince, will by no Means allow it; and it is thought, that with a View to give Weight to this Declaration, she has caused two Camps to be form'd, one near Riga, and the other in the Neighbourhood of Smolenskow. Yet our last Advices from Berlin intimate, that the King of Prussia is determined to push his good Fortune; and that Field-Marshal Schmettau is on the Point of entering Saxony, at the Head of 20,000 Men.

Hague, June 25. The Baron de Reischach, Envoy Extraordinary from the Queen of Hungary and Bohemia, has made the following Declaration to their High Mightinesses. That his Mistress, invariably attach'd to her just Principles, and fully resolved punctually to comply with the Engagements she has contracted with her faithful Allies, has already taken the necessary Measures for repairing the Loss that her Troops have suffered in Sicilia, and for rendering them more numerous than they were before the Action of Freyberg. With this View, she has ordered to Battalions of Infantry, and 2000 Hungarian Horse, besides Irregular Troops, to join them without delay; so that this Disposition will not occasion the smallest Diminution to the Armies of the Queen in the Empire, or to those which her Majesty has at present on Foot in Italy. It is impossible to express how well this Declaration was received, and what Spirit it has given to all true Friends to the Common Cause.

Arrived.

At Dublin, the Bolton, Dowers, from Philadelphia.

LONDON.

We learn by some private Letters from Leipzick, that General Nadaffi has lately attack'd and destroyed two Prussian Regiments, taken six Field Pieces, and released a great Number of Prisoners.

On the other Hand, they write from Breslau, that General Dumoulin has, since the Battle of Freyberg, made Prisoners two Austrian Generals, upwards of 1000 Men, and has taken 15 Cannon and Field Pieces.

They write from Hanover, that they have certain Intelligence of the raising Men throughout the Dominions of the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel, with unusual Diligence; but from what Motive, or where they are to be employ'd, remain, it seems, an impenetrable Secret.

The Panther, Dunn, from Faro, last from Plymouth, for London, is taken, and carried into Boulogne.

The Polly, Dickendren, from St. Kitts for London, is taken, and carried into Rochelle.

Mr. Alderman Gibbon having desired Leave to lay down his Gown, the Court of Aldermen have granted it, and on Tuesday next they will accept of his Resignation; and 'tis thought Crisp Gascoigne, Esq; will be chosen Alderman of Viatry Ward in his room.

Last Tuesday Morning died, at his House in Argyle Buildings, Mr. John Jones, Painter to his Majesty.

Yesterday Letters arriv'd in Town, which brought an Account that Col. Parsons, and the several other Officers that lately went over with the new Recruits, were all got safe to Ostend; so that the Report of their being taken by the French, proves to be a Mistake.

Their Royal Highnesses the Princesses Amelia and Carolina have appointed Miss Lawson, Daughter of Sir Wilfred Lawson, deceas'd, to be one of the Maids of Honour to their Royal Highnesses, in the room of Miss Dives, lately married to Dr. Tymard, Rector of Belvoir.

PARALYTICON, seu ANIMA NERVORUM A Stupendous Chymical Essence, which infallibly cures the PALSY, and all other NERVOUS DISEASES:

T H E very first Dose of it (a few Drops only) instantly penetrates the inmost Recesses of the mixed Nerves, and darting almost as quick as Lightning thro' the whole Human System, diffuses kindly Warmth and genial Comfort to the weaken'd Limbs, and all Parts of the Body, and affords immediate sensible Relief in the most obstinate Palsy, and all Paralytic Effects, Shaking, Trembling, Numbness, Deadness, and Weakness, whether universal, or of particular Parts only, or whether early contracted, or of many Years Contingence.

And as the very first Dose makes an apparent demonstrable Amendment, so the continuing of it for a short Time as surely accomplishes a perfect Cure, not only of the most grievous Palsy or Relocation of the Nerves, but also of their Cramp-like Contractions, Shaking of the Sinews, and all other Nervous Complaints whatever, and that in Persons of either Sex, or of any Age, and whether occasioned by preceding Illnesses, fast Living, hard Drinking, long Courses of Physick, great Colds, or excessive Fatigues either of Mind or Body.

Words cannot sufficiently express the uncommon, the unparalleled Efficacy of this great Medicine, as all who take it frankly acknowledge; and its vastly superior Excellency to all other Remedies, may be more securely rely'd on, for the absolute Cure of the Palsy, and all Paralytic Effects and Nervous Indispositions, than the Celestial Cortex is for Intermission.

It rectifies all Disorders of the first Peggies, creates an Appendix, procures a good Digestion, enriches the Blood, restores the natural Vigour and steady Use of the Limbs, and strengthens the infirm Joints, Muscles, Tendons, Ligaments, and whole Habit to an immense Degree.

It is also very pleasurable to take, is comforting and cordial to the Stomach and Bowels, and for Safety might be given to the youngest Infants.

It is to be had only, by the Author's Appointmennt at Redford, Toyshop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard, in the Strand, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with printed Directions larg.
